Sir,

I request that the following matter may kindly be published in your esteemed daily:

Entrepreneurial Training on Food Processing

Food processing Incubation cum Training Centre has been established in kodavadi pirivu, Kinathukadavu by Tamil Nadu Agricultural University, Coimbatore and Government of Tamil Nadu to motivate farmers and unemployed youth to become entrepreneurs in food processing areas. The centre mainly focuses on post harvest processing of food crops and making them into value added food products. In this view frequent training programmes on food processing are being organized in the FPITC centre. On 26-9-2017 training on Value added Amla products was organized.

During the training, the nutritional significance and health benefits of amla was emphasized. After that skill based training on amla candy, amla supari, RTS, amla juice, amla squash and pickles were given to the participants.

In addition to technology know how, requisites for establishing a food processing unit, project proposal, marketing strategies, packaging technologies, FSSAI certification details were explained to them. Many more trainings will be given on various food products and further details contact the following address
