TNAU inks MoU with USQ to strengthen research capacity on climate modelling and crop insurance

Tamil Nadu Agricultural University (TNAU), Coimbatore signed a MoU on 24.06.2022 with Centre for Applied Climate Sciences, University of Southern Queensland (USQ), Australia for research collaboration on “Enhancing Climate Change Adaptation Process for Farmers and Agribusiness” under the Australia-India Strategic Research Fund (AISRF). The Department of Science and Technology, New Delhi is funding to TNAU, Coimbatore and Australian Government is providing fund to USQ. Under this project TNAU will strengthen its research capacity on climate modelling, weather forecasting and crop insurance. This would facilitate effective weather forecasting and implementation of crop specific insurance schemes for cotton, sugarcane, mango, Tea and Coffee.
